ABSTRACT

This document contains teacher materials for a 4-unit, 1-year marketing education course in advertising and sales promotion offered in grades 11 and 12 in North Carolina. The preface contains a rationale for the development of the course, a course description, course objectives, a list of the instructional units of the course, and a list of the sections contained in each unit. A separate statement, which describes promotion (i.e., activities intended to enable goods and services to appear favorable to customers) as a major function of marketing states that this guide's purpose is to provide high school students with the initial training for career areas such as display, advertising, and sales promotion. Fifty-six competency objectives are listed for the course. Subjects of the four instructional units are: overview of advertising and promotion; advertising and publicity; visual merchandising/display; and selling. Components of each unit are: (1) a table of contents for the unit; (2) the competency goal statement and competency objectives; (3) a content-teaching outline; (4) student activities; (5) evaluation measures; (6) keys to the test items; and (7) references. # PREFACE

BACKGROUND

In the 1987 Program of Studies, Advertising and Sales Promotion was identified as a Marketing Education course to be offered in grades ten through twelve. This curriculum guide was developed to be used as a resource in planning and teaching the course.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Advertising and Sales Promotion is designed for students who are interested in a career in the promotional field. Internships, simulations, and co-op experiences may be used to expand practical application of the course content.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The broad objectives for students enrolled in Advertising and Sales Promotion are to:

- A. Make realistic decisions about their future in a promotional career.
- B. Increase their sales promotion competence through classroom instruction, individual projects and other occupational experiences.
- C. Develop their desire to further their education in their chosen marketing field.

GUIDE CONTENTS/ORGANIZATION

The Advertising and Sales Promotion guide consists of the following units of instruction:

- A. Overview of Advertising and Promotion
- B. Advertising and Publicity
- C. Visual Merchandise/Display
- D. Selling

These units were written for the course to be offered for a year. If the course is offered for only a semester, it is recommended that each unit be included and that the number of student activities be reduced. Each unit consists of the following sections:

- A table of contents
- The competency goal statement and competency objectives
- A content/teaching outline
- Student activities (SA)
- Evaluation measures (CTIB)
- Keys to the test items
- References (PR)

To the right of the outline are planning notes, indicating when the above items should be used, with space to add additional notes or references.

It is recommended that the introduction unit of the Marketing guide be used to begin the year or semester.

PURPOSE

Promotion, the activities created to enable goods and services to appear favorable to customers, is a major function of marketing. As a career field, promotion requires creative, knowledgeable people. This guide has been developed to provide high school students with the initial training for promotion career areas, such as display, advertising and sales promotion.

OVERVIEW OF ADVERTISING AND PROMOTION

I. Understanding Advertising and Promotion	PLANNING NOTES
A. Purposes of Advertising and Promotion
1. Merchandise (Product) advertising
a. Increase sales volume
b. Bring shoppers into store
c. Attract new customers
d. Introduce new products/ideas
e. Reinforce user satisfaction
f. Even out levels of sales volume
2. Institutional advertising
a. Service availability
b. Prestige	SA-1
3. Promotion
a. Introduce new products
b. Indicate product assortments
c. Present special offers, prices and conditions of sale
d. Coordinate related products
e. Attract new customers
f. Identify brands
g. Render community service
h. Give useful product information
B. Forms of Promotion	CTIB 001-1.01-02
1. Publicity (verbal or written nonpaid mention of a company, product, or service is made in public information media).
a. Advantages include:
1 ) Can create, develop, and maintain goodwill
2 ) Establishes a belief in all forms of sales promotion (paid and unpaid) presented by the company
3 ) Communicates to the public what a company is doing in the public's interest
4 ) Printed or spoken at no charge to the company
b. Disadvantages include:
1 ) Lack of control
2 ) Does not direct when, where, or how the message appears
3 ) Discourages customer trade, if poor

2. Advertising (Paid message is sent to a mass audience of potential customers by an identified sponsor)

a. Advantages include:

- 1 ) A large number of potential buyers
- 2 ) Presales of a product, service, or idea so that less time is needed for personal selling
- 3 ) Drawing customers into the store to look at merchandise and to the point of personal promotion/selling
- 4 ) Control by the company that pays for and sponsors it
- 5 ) Information to help the customer select the right product
- 6 ) Reduction of other expenses by creating more business
- 7 ) Gaining acceptance of new products, services, or ideas
- 8 ) Reduction of per unit selling expenses by allowing more efficient use of facilities

b. Disadvantages include:

- 1 ) Results not determined immediately
- 2 ) Intended customer not always reached
- 3 ) Considerable expense and coordinated efforts are involved

3. Visual Merchandising (A nonpersonal physical presentation of merchandise is made at the point-of-sale)

a. Advantages include:

- 1 ) Merchandise is seen by customers
- 2 ) Merchandise can be handled
- 3 ) Mannequins show how a garment will look when worn and accessorized
- 4 ) Customer convenience in asking questions
- 5 ) Window displays continue to sell even after the store has closed

b. Disadvantages include:

- 1 ) Merchandise often damaged, soiled, or stolen
- 2 ) Merchandise not seen unless people intentionally visit the store or are attracted to the point-of-sale
- 3 ) Daily maintenance and upkeep

4. Special Events (Special demonstrations, exhibits, attractions, service or sales inducement promote the sale of a product, service, or idea.)
  - a. Advantages include:
    - 1 ) The increase of store traffic
    - 2 ) Interest in educational and entertaining events are developed
    - 3 ) A constant interest in the store and its activities
    - 4 ) Opportunities to receive free publicity by local media
    - 5 ) Provides merchandising impact in conjunction with other means of sales promotion
  - b. Disadvantages include:
    - 1 ) Thorough planning and coordination are required
    - 2 ) A large budget may be required
5. Personal Selling (Face-to-face communication occurs between the store's representative and customers.)
  - a. Advantages include:
    - 1 ) First-hand customer reactions and impressions
    - 2 ) Personal attention and service is offered customers
    - 3 ) Immediate response to customer's questions
    - 4 ) Increased sales by suggesting additional merchandise
    - 5 ) Completion of sale
    - 6 ) Overcoming objections to sale
  - b. Disadvantages include:
    - 1 ) Sales lost by unqualified, uninformed sales personnel
    - 2 ) Expense of sales promotion
    - 3 ) Preference of customers for simplified selling/self-service

COMMUNICATIONS: PROPER ENUNCIATION

SA-4

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS: Divide the groups into 3-5 people. Once you are in your group, appoint a leader. The leader should read each of the following list of words. Other group participants should listen for words which are not clearly enunciated. When the group leader has completed a list, group members should discuss those words which did not seem clear. They should come to an agreement on correct enunciations for all words and practice this correct enunciation.

WORD LISTS:

When each group has completed this assignment, group leaders should report those words which his/her group found to be difficult to properly enunciate. The class should practice these together.

Just for fun: Volunteer to read one of the following tongue twisters aloud for the class. Try to properly enunciate each word.

1. Shy Sarah saw six swiss wrist watches.
2. Freddy Finch fried five fish for Frances Fowler's father.
3. Poor Penny Pauper purchased peppers from Paterson's produce.
4. Thomas Tattertoot took taut twine to tie ten twigs to two tall trees.
5. Go get Gidget's geometry and grammar grades for this grading period.

COMMUNICATIONS: TONE OF VOICE

TOE OF VOICE OFTEN CONVEYS MEANING TO A MESSAGE. ENTHUSIASM, SINCERITY, AND EAGERNESS ARE JUST A FEW OF THE MEANINGS WHICH CAN BE CONVEYED THROUGH TONE OF VOICE

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS: Divide into groups of three. Each group member should identify a word, phrase or sentence which can have different meaning depending on the tone of voice used when speaking. Write down the word, phrase, or statement and a minimum of three different meanings which you can convey to other group members through changing your tone of voice. Read your word, phrase or sentence to the other group members using each of the tones of voice which you have written down. The other group members should try to identify each meaning.

EXAMPLE: The word is "Oh"

Some meanings which can be conveyed for "Oh" by changing tone of voice are,

- a) You have just found out that a close friend has been injured in an accident.
- b) Grandparents are seeing their grandchild for the very first time.
- c) You have just won a $150,000 sweepstakes.
- d) You are tired and relieved to be through with a school project.

PART A: YOUR LISTENING PROBLEMS

THIS ACTIVITY WILL HELP YOU TO ANALYZE SOME LISTENING PROBLEMS. AFTER READING THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS, DECIDE WHICH PROBLEMS YOU HAVE AND WHAT YOU CAN DO TO IMPROVE YOUR LISTENING HABITS.

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS:

Step 1: Read each item carefully and record how often the problem affects you. Be sure to check an answer for each item.
A = Always, U = Usually, S = Sometimes, and N = Never

Step 2: Decide which are your worst three problems, and rate them by writing a 1, 2, or 3 in the column at the right. (3 = the very worst problem)

Step 3: Read the list of problem cures on the next page and choose the cure which you think is appropriate to help you correct your problems.

Step 1:Step 2:(1, 2, 3)

A U S N	1. Are you easily distracted by people?	_____
A U S N	2. Are you easily distracted by outside noises?	_____
A U S N	3. Do you look for things to distract you?	_____
A U S N	4. Do you day dream in school?	_____
A U S N	5. Do you daydream at home when you should be studying?	_____
A U S N	6. Do you have a know-it-all attitude when people try to explain something to you?	_____
A U S N	7. Are you able to remember what you have heard?	_____
A U S N	8. Are you accused by others of taking things the wrong way?	_____
A U S N	9. If you are part of a group that is criticized, do you think the criticism is meant for you alone?	_____
A U S N	10. Do you let your prejudices keep you from listening?	_____
A U S N	11. Do you have a habit of closing your mind to people if they do not think as you think?	_____
A U S N	12. Do you argue mentally with people if you don't agree with something they say?	_____
A U S N	13. If you do not like a person, do you let that influence your opinion of what he/she has to say?	_____

NOW MOVE ON TO THE NEXT PAGE OF CURES.

Step 3: Prescriptions for the cure of listening weaknesses

Directions: Read through the cures listed below and select one for each of the three problems you ranked 1, 2, and 3 in Step 2.

1. Force yourself to pay attention to the speaker.
2. Pick out the main ideas from what the speaker is trying to say.
3. Take notes, if necessary, but do not try to get down the exact words of the speaker.
4. Evaluate what the speaker is saying when your thinking process is ahead of the speaker's words.
5. Listen calmly without emotion so that you can hear what you are supposed to hear, not what you want to hear or expect to hear.
6. Be on your guard so that your prejudices do not scramble the message.
7. Prepare yourself to listen by opening your mind to the speaker's words.
8. Pay attention to the speaker. Do not think about what you are going to respond.
9. Listen to what the speaker is saying. Do not read your thoughts into the message.
10. Ask questions to really understand either the statements or words that may "rub you the wrong way."
11. Accept the fact that everyone has a lot to learn, and determine to learn something new or interesting from each person to whom you listen.
12. Listen with the idea that the speaker is on your side until the speaker has proved otherwise.

PART B: YOUR LISTENING STRENGTHS AND ATTITUDES

THIS PART OF THE ACTIVITY GIVES YOU A CHANCE TO ANALYZE YOUR LISTENING STRENGTHS AND TO RATE THEM. YOU WILL THEN ANALYZE YOUR ATTITUDES.

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS:

STEP 1: Follow along as each statement is read to you by the teacher. Check the space that best describes how often you show that strength.

A = Always, U = Usually, S = Sometimes, and N = Never

STEP 2: Identify your three best strengths. Rate them 1, 2, and 3 in the column to the right, according to how you feel they can help you on the job. (1 being the one which can help you the most.) Then write a brief sentence relating to each of your 3 best strengths, telling how each can help you to get and to keep a job.

STEP 3: Fill out the attitudes checklist and scoring on the next page.

Step 1:*Step 2:

A U S N      1. Do you try hard to pay attention?

_____

A U S N      2. Do you listen with an open mind?

_____

A U S N      3. Do you try to pick out the main ideas when you listen?

A U S N      5. Do you try to see things from the speaker's point of view before disagreeing? _____

A U S N      6. Do you listen without getting emotional? _____

A U S N      7. Do you try to listen for and remember the main thought? _____

A U S N      8. When you disagree with the speaker, do you ask questions to make sure you have not misunderstood? _____

A U S N      9. Is your vocabulary large enough to listen to people having different levels of education? _____

A U S N      10. Is your vocabulary large enough to talk to people having different levels of education? _____

A U S N      11. Do you try to build up your vocabulary? _____

A U S N      12. Do you look up words in the dictionary that you do not know? _____

A U S N      13. Do you listen more than you talk? _____

A U S N      14. When directions contain numbers, strange names, or difficult instructions, do you write them down? _____

Step 3: Judging your Listening attitudes

Check your answer to each of the following questions.

A U S N      1. Do you enjoy listening? _____

A U S N      2. Do you find listening to others a satisfying experience? _____

A U S N      3. Do you think good listening habits will help you to make friends and to keep them? _____

A U S N      4. Do you think good listening habits will help you on the job? _____

To find out how your attitude rates, give yourself 3 points for each Always checked, 2 points for each Usually, and 1 point for each Sometimes.

Your total score _____

Your rating is:

- "Super attitude!" if your score is 12 - 9
- "You are doing fine." if your score is 8 - 5

BUYING MOTIVES

Rational motives--are based on reason, logic and good judgment.

Emotional motives--are based on the customer's emotions, feelings, and impulses.

Patronage motives--are things which cause the customer to buy from one business rather than another.

APPEALING TO THESE MOTIVES IS THE WAY TO MAKE SALES!

Examples: Emotional -- "With the purchase of this advertising package you will become the envy of all of your competitors."

Patronage -- "Remember, we are the only radio station in this listening area that has in-house ad preparation. This lowers your cost for radio spots."

Rational -- "This type of promotion is guaranteed to increase your customer traffic by 15%."
